API Documentation Overhaul

We have replaced the previous API documentation with an interactive tool that better compiles API definitions and enables you to perform test calls to your own tenant environments. The docs are still located under the Developer > REST API Reference category of the knowledge base.

Knowledge Base Reorganization

We have also reorganized the eCommerce and Order Management documentation on the knowledge base into one Kibo Composable Commerce Platform category to better reflect our unified product. All guides still exist but have been placed under this new hierarchy.
